

CHILD PROTECTION POLICY AND PROCEDURES

Ratified June 2020

POLICY

INTRODUCTION

Children and young people have a fundamental right to grow, develop and feel safe in environments that are free from violence, exploitation and harm. The Catholic Schools Office (CSO) Lismore has clear expectations that all students in Catholic systemic schools in the Diocese of Lismore will be protected from all forms of harm including sexual, physical and psychological harm as well as ill-treatment and neglect. The Catholic Schools Office and Catholic systemic schools in the Diocese have certain responsibilities and expectations to ensure the safety and protection of children in their care, including supporting measures to ensure that children and young people will be taught how to protect themselves, and to seek help if they are concerned about their safety.

Consistent with its mission and values, and in compliance with its legislative obligations, the Catholic Schools Office Lismore strives to ensure children in its care are safe and secure. Implementing a variety of practices that reduces potential risk forms part of our strategy to build child safe communities.

This policy sets out the expectations required of employees in the Catholic Schools Office and in Catholic systemic schools of the Diocese. This document is to also inform and remind employees engaged or employed in Catholic systemic schools in the Diocese of Lismore of the standards of behaviour, duties, obligations and other requirements that must be adhered to when working with children.

A range of checks and undertakings are required for people who work for or provide services to Catholic Education in the Diocese of Lismore including the mandatory considerations of professional standards, codes of conduct and accepted community standards.

4.7 Definitions under the Act

I. Threshold for reporting to Department of Communities and Justice (DCJ)

A mandatory reporter must, where they have reasonable grounds to suspect that a child (under 16 years of age) is at risk of significant harm, report to DCJ as soon as practicable, the name, or a description, of the child and the grounds for suspecting that the child is at risk of significant harm.

In addition, while not mandatory, the Principal or Human Services employee considers that a report should also be made to DCJ where there are reasonable grounds to suspect a young person (16 or 17 years of age) is at risk of significant harm and there are current concerns about the safety, welfare and well-being of the young person.

II. Reasonable Grounds

Reasonable grounds refer to the need to have an objective basis for suspecting that a child or young person may be at risk of significant harm based on:

- a. First hand observations of the child, young person or family;
- b. What the child, young person, parent or another has disclosed; and
- c. What can reasonably be inferred based on professional training and/or experience.

What is meant by 'significant' in the phrase 'to a significant extent' is that which is sufficiently serious to warrant a response by a statutory authority irrespective of a family's consent.

What is significant is not minor or trivial, and may reasonably be expected to produce a substantial and demonstrably adverse impact on the child or young person's safety, welfare or well-being.

A child or young person is 'at risk of significant harm' if current concerns exist for the safety, welfare or well-being of the child or young person because of the presence, to a significant extent, of any one or more of the following circumstances as per the Act, but not limited to:

- a. The child's or young person's basic physical or psychological needs are not being met or are at risk of not being met;
- b. The parents or other caregivers have not arranged and are unable or unwilling to arrange for the child or young person to receive necessary medical care;

8. PROCESS FOR MANAGING ALLEGATIONS

8.1 Legislation establishes an allegation-based framework where the veracity of any complaint is tested through an internal inquiry/investigation process. The process for managing complaints remains consistent for all complaints or allegations, whether they require a report to an external authority or not.

8.2 First Steps

Once an allegation against an employee in a Catholic systemic school in the Diocese of Lismore is received, Human Services will:

- I. Determine on face value whether it is an allegation of reportable conduct;
- II. Consider whether the alleged behaviour constitutes criminal behaviour and whether the matter needs to be reported to the police. Clearance must be sought from the police and/or relevant agencies prior to Human Services proceeding with an investigation;
- III. Consider whether the alleged behaviour requires a mandatory report to DCJ;
- IV. Where conduct meets threshold of reportable conduct, notify the Head of Relevant Entity (HRE) who will inform the Office of the Children's Guardian within seven (7) working days by the submission of a 7-Day Notification Form;

- V. Notify child's parents (unless specifically requested not to by police or DCJ to ensure no compromise to their investigations); and

 - d. The level of supervision of the employee subject of the allegation; and

- V. Human Services at the Catholic Schools Office will discuss with the Safeguarding Manager the appropriate action to take to minimise risks. This may include the employee subject of the allegation being temporarily relieved of some duties, being required not to have contact with certain students, or being suspended from duty. When taking action to address any risks identified, Human Services will take into consideration both the needs of the child(ren) and the employee subject of the allegation;
- VI. A decision to take action on the basis of a risk assessment is not indicative of the findings of the matter or that the alleged conduct by the employee did occur; and
